Fold

Coat rack

Following our series of steel wire bases, we wanted to create an alternative that is equally functional but distinct in character. The choice fell on bent sheet metal, resulting in the Fold table legs.

The legs feature a striking conical shape that gradually tapers towards the floor into a subtle profile. This profile is slightly "offset" from the floor and finished with a round adjustable leveling foot. Its radius precisely follows the bend of the sheet metal, ensuring a stable fit even on uneven surfaces. Protective pads are also included to prevent any floor damage.
